Introduction

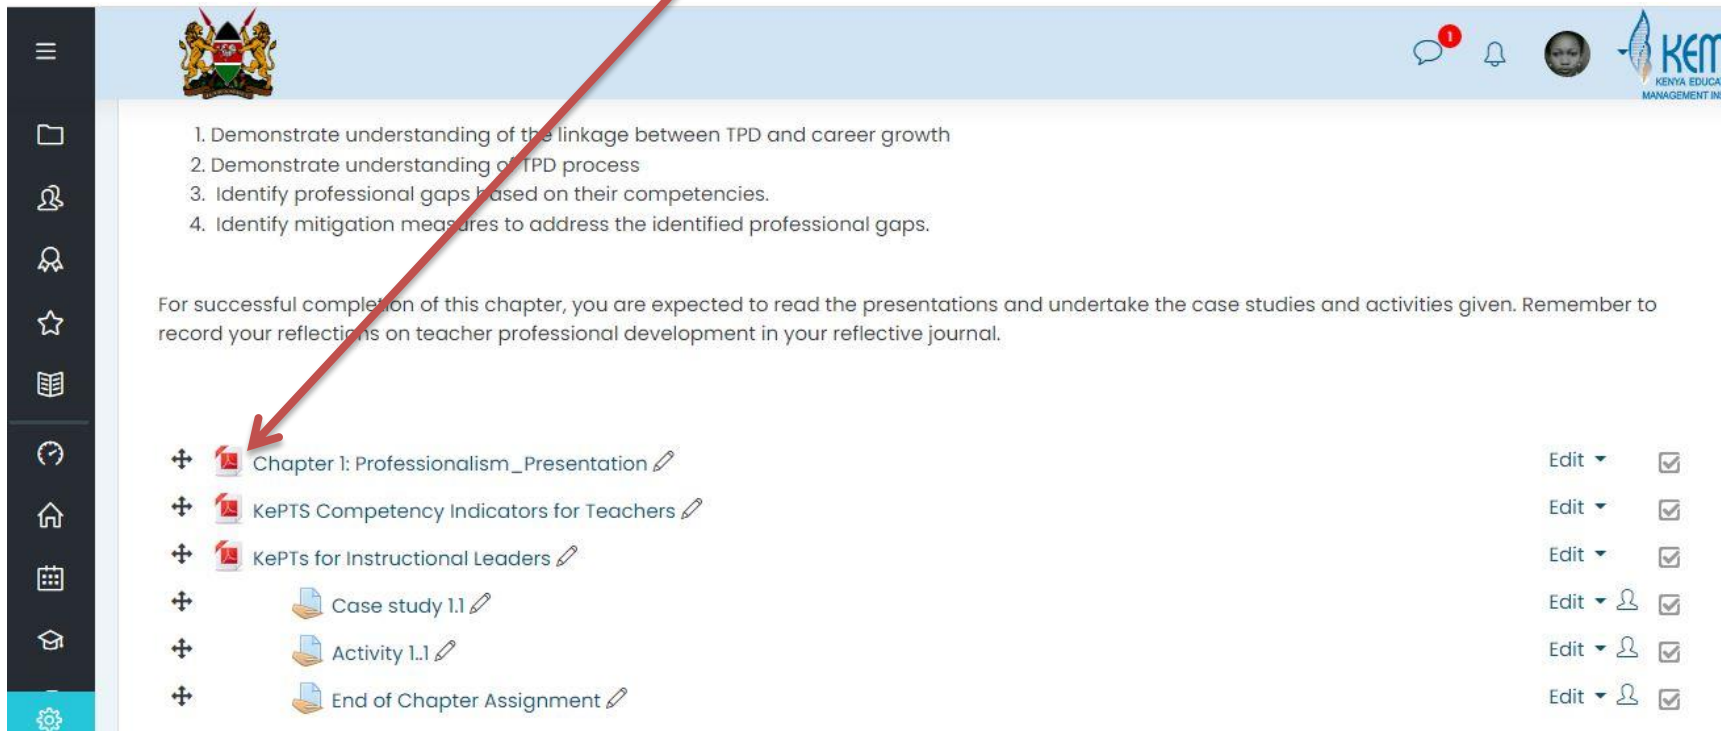

Professional development refers to many types of educational experiences related to an individual's work. Doctors, lawyers, educators, accountants, engineers, and people in a wide variety of professions and businesses participate in professional development to learn and apply new knowledge skills, values and attitudes that will improve their performance on the job. Many fields require members to participate in ongoing learning approved by the profession, sometimes as a requirement for keeping their jobs. Professionals often also voluntarily seek new learning.

Learning outcomes

Upon completion of this chapter, you will be able to:

Sample Resources

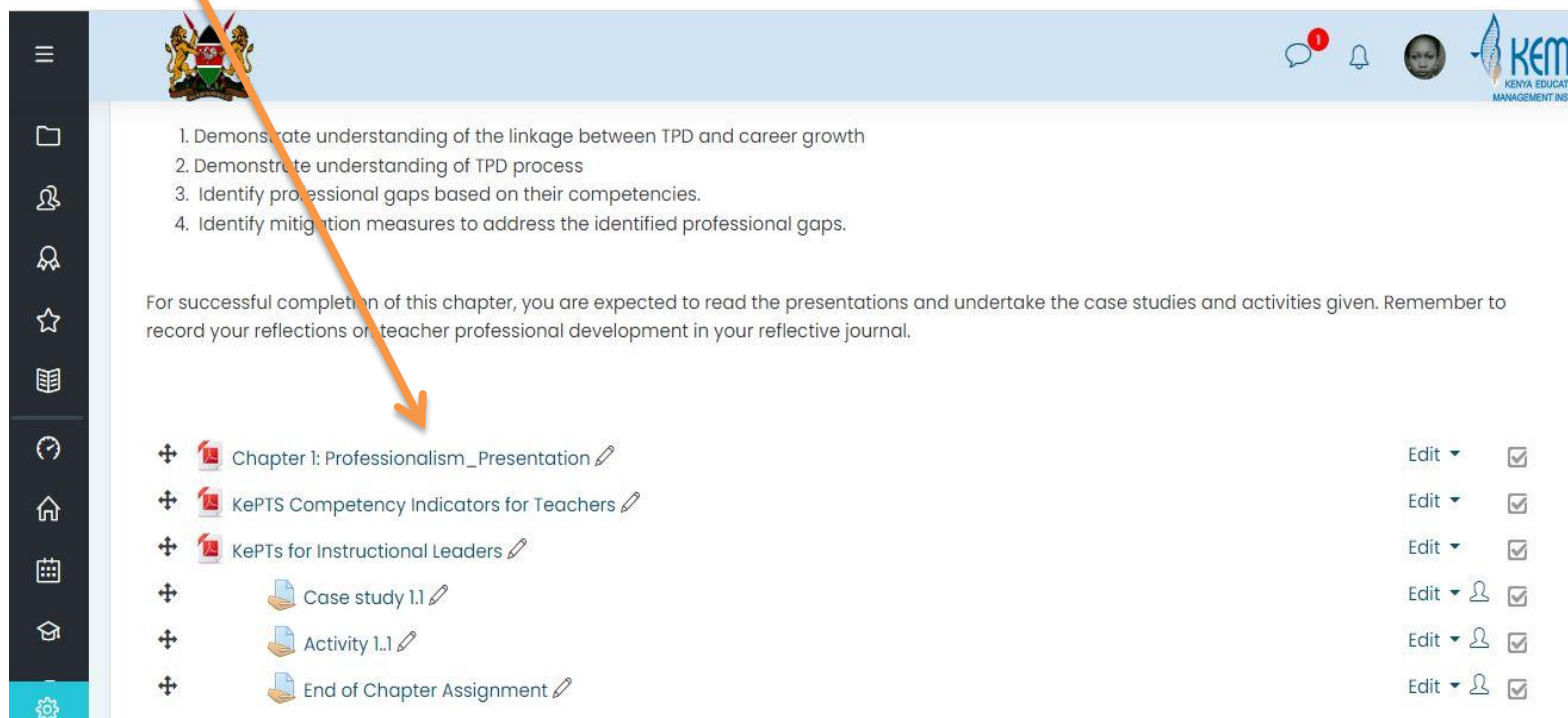

1. Demonstrate understanding of the linkage between TPD and career growth
2. Demonstrate understanding of TPD process
3. Identify professional gaps based on their competencies.
4. Identify mitigation measures to address the identified professional gaps.

For successful completion of this chapter, you are expected to read the presentations and undertake the case studies and activities given. Remember to record your reflections on teacher professional development in your reflective journal.

E-LEARNING ONLINE ETIQUETTE

- The effective use of the eLearning requires all users to observe some dos and don'ts.
- Below are guidelines on how to behave while online:
 - i. Logging in: Always Log into your KEMI Virtual Campus account using your user name and password.
 - ii. Logging out: If using a shared computing device such from a or a cyber café, ensure that you have logged out at the end of each session.
 - iii. Your online profile: this should be a picture of the user and should look professional.
 - iv. Don't Assume Privacy: anything posted on the eLearning platform can be read by others. Only post what you are expected to post and do not reveal unnecessary personal information

- v. Avoid Offensive Comments: avoid offensive comments in your online communication especially on the discussion forums.
- vi. Don't Shout: Remember that when you type in all capitals, your communication comes across as shouting. Some people think it makes their message easier to read, but that isn't the case. Use a font size and style that is easy on the eyes when read in standard case letters.

Conclusion

- We wish you all the best as you undertake this course.
- Let us enjoy learning together as we utilize technology in the process.
- Contact your coordinator if you encounter any challenges in the use of the e-Learning platform and we shall walk the journey together.

viii. DON'T Abuse chat forums and email to communicate:

While you need to be assertive in expressing your needs, opinions and ideas in class discussions, don't go overboard! Sending too many emails to your instructors or classmates can be overwhelming. Treat email like you're having an in-person, back-and-forth conversation.

ix. Be respectful and responsive: With online communication, it's important to understand people might misconstrue what you said, no matter how carefully you composed it. Be aware of how you use class discussion boards, whether to ask a question to the group or make a point about a learning topic.

INTRODUCTORY MODULE

TEACHER PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT (TPD) PROGRAMM INTRODUCTORY MODULE

INTRODUCTORY MODULE

Teacher Professionalism

Day 1

Purpose

To enhance participants' knowledge, skills, attitudes and values related to teacher professional development and building a culture of reflective practice as a requirement for professional development

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate understanding of the linkage between TPD and their career growth
- Demonstrate understanding of TPD process.
- Identify professional gaps based on their competencies.
- Identify mitigation measures to address the identified professional gaps.

Teacher Professional Development and Career Growth

- Using the “KNOW, WANT TO LEARN”(KWL) approach, state what you Know and What want to Learn about teacher professional development and career growth.
- Know.....Some things that I already know about TPD and Career Growth
- Want to Learn.....Some things I would like to learn about TPD and career growth
.....

Share responses to both sections in on the chat forum

- Teacher Professional Development refers to the process of improving and increasing the capabilities of an employee.
- It is the continuous updating of professional knowledge and improvement of personal competence throughout one's teaching life.
- Due to the dynamic environment in which teachers work, professional teacher development is a prerequisite for effective teaching and learning in the classroom.
- Professional development involves the career long processes and related systems and policies designed to enable educators to acquire, broaden and deepen their knowledge, skills and competences in order to effectively perform their work roles.

Rationale for TPD in Kenya

- The TPD program is designed to cover the pre-primary, primary and secondary school teachers and Instructional leaders in both public and private primary and secondary schools and teachers in colleges.
- Teacher Professional Development provides opportunities for teachers to explore new roles, develop new instructional and leadership techniques, refine their practice and broaden their outlook as educators and as individuals.

Activity (5minutes)

- Read case study 1 and answer the questions that follow
- In plenary present your responses

The rationale for TPD in Kenya is based on the following:

- Constitution of Kenya: Section 43, 1(f) emphasizes that education is human right
- Vision 2030: Under social pillar, Kenya aspires to be a Knowledge based economy country
- Basic Education Act:, 2013, Part iv talks of free and compulsory basic education to all learners
- Global trends : continuous professional development is the best practice for professional growth

- Sustainable Development Goals(SDGs) : SDG 4 deals with access to quality education through quality teaching
- 21st century demands: The learners in the 21st century are confronted with increasingly complex social cultural, economic, technological, and global challenges; teachers therefore must prepare learners who possess sophisticated, diversified, and complementary competencies that will enable them to navigate through these challenges.

The Constitution of Kenya (2010)

- Established the Teachers Service Commission as a constitutional Commission through Article 237 (1) with an exclusive mandate on teacher management.

TSC Act, 2012

- Sections 11(e): mandates TSC to: “facilitate career progression and professional development for teachers in the teaching service including the appointment of head teachers and principals”
- Section 35(1) of the Act that state that: The Commission shall take all necessary Compliance with teaching steps to ensure that persons in the teaching service comply with the teaching standards prescribed by the Commission under this Act.

Section 35(2) (a) and (b) of the Act state that the Commission shall:

(a) require every registered teacher to undertake career progression and professional development programmes as may be prescribed by regulations made under this Act;

(b) require every registered teacher to take out a teaching certificate as prescribed by regulations made under this Act;

The Code of Regulations for Teachers (2015)

- Section 48 states that:

(1) Every teacher shall undertake the professional teacher development programmes prescribed or recommended by the Commission from time to time.

(2) The Commission shall approve training institutions to conduct teacher development programmes.

(3) The approved institutions shall issue certificates to teachers upon completion of the programme.

Section 49 states:

- (1) Every teacher who successfully completes a professional teacher development programme under regulation 48 shall be issued with a teaching certificate by the Commission
- (2) A certificate issued under this regulation shall indicate the effective date and shall be valid for five years or such other period as may be prescribed by the Commission.

The TPD framework

- TPD is a life-long learning programme organized in six hierarchical competency levels where each level takes five years to complete.
- At the end of each module, successful teachers will have their teaching certificates renewed after every five years,
- TPD Programs shall be undertaken as follows:
 - teacher initiated/school based Teacher Professional Development programmes
 - TPD prescribed modules.

- At the school level, the instructional leaders are expected to plan a school initiated TPD under their supervision.
- At the national level every teacher is required to undertake the Teacher Professional Development Programmes as prescribed by the Commission from time to time.

- Upon commencement of the programme, a teacher will be required to acquire a certificate, which is renewable every five years.
- New teachers seeking registration will be issued with two certificates; certificate of registration and teaching certificate
- After completing a Teacher Professional Development module, teachers will be eligible for re-certification and promotion; as the TPD modules have been anchored in the Career Progression Guidelines, CPG.

- The training will also enhance the teacher's knowledge and skills in order to address gaps in the Teacher Performance and Appraisal Development, TPAD.
- They will also keep teachers informed, enable them improve their pedagogical skills and acquire new, relevant, knowledge in their teaching areas.

THE KENYA PROFESSIONAL TEACHING STANDARDS (KePTs)

KNOW, WANT to LEARN (KWL) about Kenya Professional Teaching Standards

In preparation for undertaking study of Kenya Professional Teaching Standards Complete the following

- Know.....Some things that I already know about Kenya Professional Teaching Standards.....
- Want to Learn.....Some things I would like to learn about Kenya Professional Teaching Standards.....

Put your responses on the chat

- In its endeavor to maintain the teaching standards of all registered teachers in Kenya, the Teachers Service Commission has come up with specific Professional Teaching Standards (KePTS) and Competency Indicators to measure teachers' performance.
- The standards define the work of Kenyan teachers in the context of the 21st century learning, by setting high quality and effective teaching expectations that are meant to improve overall learners' achievement.

- KePTS are meant to provide a consistent and supportive framework for measuring effectiveness of Teachers and Instructional leaders against specific competency indicators.
- The Kenya Professional Teaching Standards for teachers and Instructional Leaders recognize the key role played by the two categories in implementing education policy and making quality learning a reality.
- They express the expectations of an individual who is entrusted with the task of supporting learners' learning in all primary and post primary learning institutions

Note:

- TPD training content is based on the Seven (7) Kenya Professional Teaching Standards (KePTS).

For Teacher	For Instructional Leader
1. Promotes professionalism throughout the career	1. Takes lead in promoting professionalism throughout the career
2. Has pedagogical content knowledge and understanding of competency based curriculum and how to implement it.	2. Takes lead in developing school vision focused on high quality instruction and learning rooted on competency based curriculum

KePTs Indicators

Activity:

- Identify one KePTs standard and discuss what would look for to determine whether a teacher has attained the competencies in that standard.
- Present your findings in plenary

- Facilitator to pick on one standard and discuss the competency indicators for that standard

Notes on other standards and their indicators are on the LMS
Participants to access the e-learning platform and read more about the KePTs standard indicated for both teachers and instructional leaders

Teacher Professional Development Planning Process

TPD comprises both teacher initiated/school based Teacher Professional Development programmes and employer initiated modules

We have already looked at the employee initiated module

We will now learn how to plan for the teacher initiated/school teacher professional development programmes

- In order to address the gaps that a professional may have in terms of the KePTS indicators, a teacher needs a TPD Plan that can be developed by using the following steps:

Step One: Teacher/School Self- Assessment Data

- This is the initial stage when a teacher/School completes self-evaluation to identify learning activities for termly professional development.
- Using the scale of 1-3, a teacher conducts self-assessment in each of the KePTS to objectively determine areas of improvement using the rating shown in table 1.

KePTs Standard	Competence Indicator	Rating Scale
		3	2	1
		My knowledge, skills and attributes in this competence are very strong	My knowledge, skills and attributes in this competence are adequate, could be improved	My knowledge, skills and attributes in this competence need to be the focus of my professional development

Step 2: Identification of Professional Competence Gaps

- After identifying the Professional Competence gaps, the teacher proceeds to identify the chapters in the relevant TPD Module that address the identified gaps.
- At this stage, the teacher is expected to set professional learning goals that must include the following:
 - Outcomes of self-assessment data in step one.
 - Competency indicators as provided in each of the standards.
 - A balance between individual teacher professional goals and classroom learning curriculum outcomes.
 - Actual outcome of professional development.
 - Improvement on the gaps identified through self-assessment.

Step 3: Professional Development Action Plan

- Having identified the perceived strengths and areas of improvement of a teacher and learners learning, the teacher determines the appropriate chapter of the module and activity for professional development and action plan.
- The teacher's action plan should include the following:
 - Intended professional development goals
 - Rationale for professional development goals
 - The benefits of the professional development to the learner's learning
 - The chapter of the module to undertake
 - Nature of assessment to attain the professional development goals
 - Information on resources required

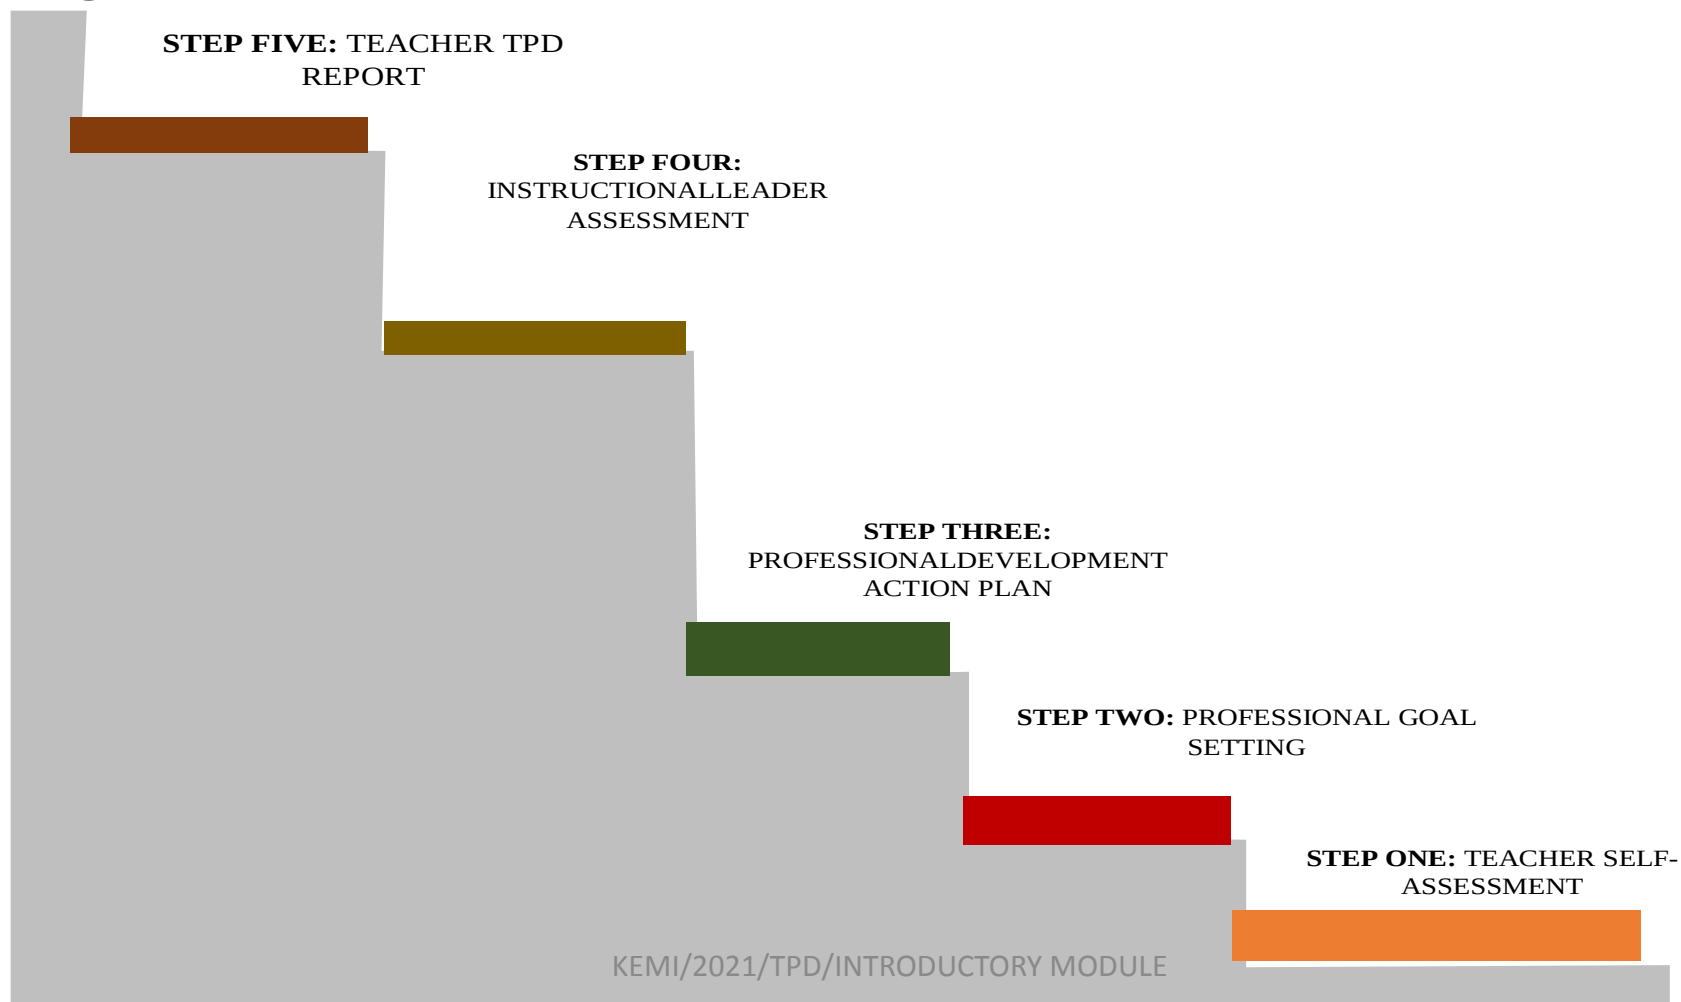

Step 4: Assessment of Teacher's Action Plan by Instructional Leader

- The instructional leader will assess teachers' action plans. The assessment of the teacher's TPD action plan will ensure that:
 - Goals are specific and measurable
 - Goals will improve learners' learning
 - Goals are integrated with competency indicators
 - Steps of the action plan are clearly outlined
 - Action plan is realistic, manageable and achievable
 - Assessment strategies towards achieving the goals in the action plans are appropriate
 - Learning resources to accomplish the professional development are identified

Step 5: Development of TPD report

- The instructional leader is required to develop a TPD report detailing performance gaps of the teachers and intervention measures to be undertaken.

Planning in TPD Process

Extended learning activity

- Study the KePTs and their indicators above and identify one standard where you feel you currently require more knowledge and skills
- Following the steps given above, draw a professional development support plan in one of your teaching subjects that can address the gap you have identified.
- Explain how your plan can be operationalized in a school based TPD program
- Post your responses on the e-learning platform
