INTRODUCTION

- In its endeavour to maintain the teaching standards of all registered teachers in Kenya, the Teachers Service Commission has come up with specific Professional Teaching Standards (KePTS) and Competency Indicators to measure teachers' performance.
- The standards define the work of Kenyan teachers in the context of the 21st century learning, by setting high quality and effective teaching expectations that are meant to improve overall learners' achievement.

- KePTS are meant to provide a consistent and supportive framework for measuring effectiveness of Teachers and Instructional leaders against specific competency indicators.
- The Kenya Professional Teaching Standards for teachers and Instructional Leaders recognize the key role played by the two categories in implementing education policy and making quality learning a reality.
- They express the expectations of an individual who is entrusted with the task of supporting learners' learning in all primary and post primary learning institutions

Note:

- TPD training content is based on the Seven (7) Kenya Professional Teaching Standards (KePTS).

Teacher Professional Development Planning Process

TPD comprises both teacher initiated/school based Teacher Professional Development programmes and employer initiated modules

We have already looked at the employee initiated module

We will now learn how to plan for the teacher initiated/school teacher professional development programmes

- In order to address the gaps that a professional may have in terms of the KePTS indicators, a teacher needs a TPD Plan that can be developed by using the following steps:

Step One: Teacher/School Self- Assessment Data

- This is the initial stage when a teacher/School completes self-evaluation to identify learning activities for termly professional development.
- Using the scale of 1-3, a teacher conducts self-assessment in each of the KePTS to objectively determine areas of improvement using the rating shown in table 1.

REPUBLIC OF KENYA
MINISTRY OF EDUCATION

KePTs Standard	Competence Indicator	Rating Scale
		3 My knowledge, skills and attributes in this competence are very strong	2 My knowledge, skills and attributes in this competence are adequate, could be improved	1 My knowledge, skills and attributes in this competence need to be the focus of my professional development

Step 2: Identification of Professional Competence Gaps

- After identifying the Professional Competence gaps, the teacher proceeds to identify the chapters in the relevant TPD Module that address the identified gaps.
- At this stage, the teacher is expected to set professional learning goals that must include the following:
 - Outcomes of self-assessment data in step one.
 - Competency indicators as provided in each of the standards.
 - A balance between individual teacher professional goals and classroom learning curriculum outcomes.
 - Actual outcome of professional development.
 - Improvement on the gaps identified through self-assessment.

Step 3: Professional Development Action Plan

- Having identified the perceived strengths and areas of improvement of a teacher and learners learning, the teacher determines the appropriate chapter of the module and activity for professional development and action plan.
- The teacher's action plan should include the following:
 - Intended professional development goals
 - Rationale for professional development goals
 - The benefits of the professional development to the learner's learning
 - The chapter of the module to undertake
 - Nature of assessment to attain the professional development goals
 - Information on resources required

Step 4: Assessment of Teacher's Action Plan by Instructional Leader

- The instructional leader will assess teachers' action plans. The assessment of the teacher's TPD action plan will ensure that:
 - Goals are specific and measurable
 - Goals will improve learners' learning
 - Goals are integrated with competency indicators
 - Steps of the action plan are clearly outlined
 - Action plan is realistic, manageable and achievable
 - Assessment strategies towards achieving the goals in the action plans are appropriate
 - Learning resources to accomplish the professional development are identified

REPUBLIC OF KENYA
MINISTRY OF EDUCATION

Step 5: Development of TPD report

- The instructional leader is required to develop a TPD report detailing performance gaps of the teachers and intervention measures to be undertaken.
